

Congratulations to CKRS student, Max Baier, who will represent CKRS at the National History Bee in Atlanta Georgia !

Three CKRS students, Paul Ravelli, Zachary Fiato and Max Baier competed at the Middle School Regionals (Stage 2) of the National History Bee. Max Baier was a winner at the Regionals and therefore qualified to go to the Nationals. Max is a sixth grader here at CKRS and will now attend the National Finals in Atlanta, GA this June!

The National History Bee is an exciting history competition for school children across America. Participating students progress from the school level to the regional level and finally to the National Championship until one student is crowned the National History Bee Champion!

*Congratulations to Max, Paul and Zachary .... Go make History Max!
