Merry Christmas!

Just last week we celebrated Thanksgiving, hopefully focusing on all the blessings that we have as individuals and as a nation. Our circumstances may not be what we want or thought they would be, but I'm sure we can all find something to be grateful for. We at Kids Alley are so thankful for our amazing staff, volunteers, and supporters who give beyond our greatest expectations. We are so grateful to each one of you who give of your time, your talent, and your treasure. We pray for you and pray that this Christmas Season brings you much joy!

We would like to recognize some very special young people who have already learned the blessing of giving to others. Michael Fiscaro, a young boy who celebrated his 6th birthday in November chose to receive coats, hats, and gloves for the children of Kids Alley in lieu of presents for himself.

Kids Alley also received a financial donation from a trio of thirteen year olds. Brian Dugan, Jack Cassidy, and Robert Saldutti, who tutor once a week at the Kids Alley Learning Center, celebrated their 13th birthday together and asked for donations to Kids Alley in lieu of gifts for their birthday. We are so impressed by these young people who have chosen to help others instead of receiving for themselves. We extend a BIG THANK YOU to each one of these young men.

The Apostle Paul in Philippians 2:4-5 said, "Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus."
